User's manual

1.0 Attention

This manual must be carefully read before transporting, installing, using or maintaining the machine. It states the expected use of the machine and gives instructions for the operations in accordance with regulations. All given instructions and suggestions should be followed. This manual is part of the machine and should be stored in a well known place. In case of loss please inform manufacturer and ask for new copy.

1.1. Guarantee

Eitan industries guarantee the machine produced by its factory for a period of 1 year. The guarantee starts from the date of shipment and will be valid only if the machine has been used and maintained properly, and in accordance with the directions of this manual. The guarantee refers only to parts that Eitan Industries admit as defective from manufacturing.

These parts will be replaced free of charge by Eitan Industries against return of the parts judged as defective, or repaired free of charge in its factory. All packing, transport, shipping, and labor expenses are in charge of the customer. This guarantee does not include all components purchased by Eitan Industries, for which the guarantee of the original manufacturers will be effective. Furthermore, the guarantee leaves out all consumption and maintenance materials. Repairs and/or replacements made during the validity period of the guarantee do not postpone its validity term. The guarantee excludes any reimbursement arising from non-production.
